

Gregory Mendenhall

Gregory Mendenhall has a B.A. degree in English from Gallaudet University, a M.A. degree in Deaf Education from the University of Minnesota, and a M.Ed. from the University of Dayton. Gregory has been in the field of Deaf Education since his graduation from Gallaudet University, having served as a high school English teacher and as a school principal. Gregory is currently the high school principal at Western Pennsylvania School for the Deaf in Pittsburgh, PA. Gregory resides in Monroeville, PA with his wife Kallie and their three children, Bladen, Presley, and Trenton.