

A native of Las Vegas and current resident of mile-high Denver, Rachel Berman has been profoundly Deaf since birth and prides herself as being Bilingual/Bicultural in both English and ASL. She is currently a full-time instructor at the University of Colorado in Boulder and has 10 years of ASL teaching experience in Higher Education. She holds a B.A. degree in Communication Sciences from the University of Arizona, a M.A. in Communication Sciences from Gallaudet University and second M.A. in Teaching American Sign Language from the University of Northern Colorado. She is an active member of the Deaf Community and has served the community in many capacities. At Gallaudet, she served as a Vice President of the Graduate Student Association. Shortly after she moved to Denver, she managed “ASL Slam Denver,” which hosted a monthly poetry slam in ASL, and produced content for social media. She has written 3 digital books in English and ASL which can be purchased on iTunes. When Rachel is not at the University, she works as an independent contractor tutoring and teaching ASL/Deaf Culture at companies such as Amazon and works as an ASL Stage Coach assisting Deaf actors and interpreters with the script translation. She is currently a volunteer language mentor for CORE Denver and aspiring to make local arts more accessible for Deaf/HH Community. In her free time, she enjoys stand-up paddleboarding, being a gym rat, going to the theater, exploring life with her Deaf boyfriend, traveling, cooking, hiking, crafts and reading. To learn more about her, go to: <https://rachelgberman.weebly.com/>