

CALL FOR PRESENTATIONS

The ASDC 2019 conference theme, 21st Century Partnerships, recognizes the strides made in deaf education, technology, and research during the last 15-20 years and the importance of a team approach. Families, education professionals, researchers, medical professionals, and community service organizations - all working together in innovative partnerships - will ensure that the 21st century is full of opportunities and possibilities for each and every deaf child.

Delaware School for the Deaf is thrilled to host this exciting and important conference in our new, “21st century” school!

The dates are: Thurs., June 27 - Sat., June 29, 2019. Thursday is registration and a “welcome” gathering in the evening. All day Friday and Saturday, conference sessions, keynotes, and panels will be provided on topics that highlight the concept of “partnership” and address areas such as literacy, transition, behavior, medical/education professional collaboration.

WE ARE SEEKING KEYNOTE PRESENTERS, SESSION PRESENTERS AND PANEL PROPOSALS FOR THIS CONFERENCE.

Please submit presentation/panel proposals that are family-friendly, informative, and when appropriate – hands-on. Suggested topics include:

- Addressing the “whole child” in education programs
- Literacy and language development
- STEM/STEAM education
- Transition planning and life after K-12
- Cooperation between professionals in the fields of medicine and education

We especially want YOU to submit a presentation proposal if you:

- Have fostered/are/have been part of a successful “partnership” that benefits deaf/hard of hearing children and/or their families that you would like to share
- Have ideas for fostering partnerships between non-traditional stakeholders in deaf education and would like to present and/or be part of a panel discussion
